Please bring the following items the morning of your females c-section:

- Box, basket, or some type of container to hold puppies in.
- Blankets or towels to line the container for the puppies
- Blanket, towel, or diaper for mother dog to use due to post-partum bleeding.
- A heating source of some kind to keep puppies warm when they come out, while mother wakes and during transportation.

C section Policies:

- ❖ Please be aware that no client is allowed in surgery during the csection. This is for the safety of the mother dog and puppies as well as for sterility reasons. After all the puppies have arrived and have had their weights logged and umbilicals tied off by a veterinary technician, we will come get you from the lobby and place you in an exam room with your puppies.
- ❖ On the day of csection if you do not want to wait during csection then puppies and mother dog MUST be picked up within an hour of the csection. We are not able to provide care and feeding for puppies post csection.
- ❖ Please research how to care of puppies and pregnant dogs. We can provide as much info as we can, but it is up to you to take the responsibility to ensure that your breeding program thrives!
