PROCEDURE _____

Please Read Carefully and Initial/Sign Below

Your pet will be undergoing general anesthesia plus a surgical procedure today. There are certain risks and complications associated with any operation or procedure of this type. Complications include but not limited to: anesthetic related death, local infection, excessive hemorrhage, excessive local swelling. I further understand that during the course of the operations or procedures, unforeseen conditions may arise that may necessitate the performance of additional procedures. Prior to surgery if fleas are found on your pet he/she will be treated at owner's expense.

In order to recognize any underlying abnormalities your pet may have, we recommend having a pre-surgical blood profile run on your animal. This consists of a Complete Blood Count and a Chemical Profile. These tests are recommended for all patients requiring anesthesia/surgery. These tests will help us detect disorders such as: liver disease, kidney disease, diabetes, blood disorders and many other disorders that may not be detected unless blood tests are performed. These blood tests will help us to assess the health status of your pet more completely and determine if there are any additional precautions we need to take before anesthesia/surgery.

There is an additional charge for these blood tests. We hope you understand the need for these important tests.

Pain Management:

Our staff not only cares about the care and comfort your pet receives here at our hospital, but also the comfort they are in at home. Even though your pet has a higher threshold of pain than you do, they still experience pain to some degree. We have the resources to administer pain medications before and after surgery to help relieve your pet from discomfort after surgery. The cost varies on the procedure and weight but usually costs approximately $30.00.
