Cat Neuter

Your cat has undergone a neuter procedure. Two small incisions are present on his scrotum. There are no sutures. A very small amount of drainage is common from the surgical site. If more than a drop or two is seen, please call our office.

Your pet should be discouraged from licking the incision. If he licks the site frequently, please call our office and we will supply you with an e-collar which will prevent him from causing any damage to the incision.

Do not bathe him for at least 7 days.

He can eat and drink as usual today.

He should be kept quiet for one week after surgery. This means no running, jumping or playing. If this is difficult to accomplish, please call our office so we may discuss with the doctor if a tranquilizer may be used to help keep him calm. After 7 days, he can resume activity as usual. At that time, he can go outside, if he is used to going out.

Pets that are too active too soon may develop some swelling under the incision. If this becomes excessive, please call our office.

He may be a little sleepy or less active for the next 1-2 days.
