Permanent identification of your pet is practically the only way to ensure recovery if he or she becomes lost. Over 10 million pets are lost every year. Warwick Animal Hospital supports the HomeAgain Microchip Identification System. This is a microchip that is inserted under the skin between the shoulder blades and becomes a permanent way of identification for your pet. Each chip has an individual identification number, which you register with the AKC (American Kennel Club). Should you change addresses or telephone numbers, you are able to change this with the AKC!

While your animal is boarding, the chip, which is the size of a grain of rice, can be inserted. You will receive all of the necessary information to submit when you pick your pet up.

- Insert HomeAgain Microchip $48.50
